

Rioting in Tipperary.

O'Brien Taken There to Be Tried.

EXCITING STREET SCENES.

The Popular Demand Entrance Into the Court Room, But for a Time They Are Barred Out by the Police—Other News as Gleaned from the Ocean Cable.

DUBLIN, Sept. 26.—Patrick O'Brien, member of parliament, was brought to this city Wednesday from Cardiff, where he was arrested on Tuesday. The police, after placing Mr. O'Brien in prison, were very reticent regarding what further disposition would be made of his prisoner. The Nationalists, however, soon learned that Mr. O'Brien would be conveyed to Tipperary by the train leaving here yesterday morning. They determined to give him an escort which would surprise the authorities by the number and prominence of the gentlemen taking part in it.

When the officers appeared at the railway station with Mr. O'Brien they were surprised to find a large delegation of prominent Nationalists and English members of parliament already on board the train to accompany their prisoner. The Hon. John Morley, member of parliament, and Alfred Blingworth, member of parliament, who have been in Ireland the past several days to investigate the extent of the damage by the failure of crops, and Commissioners John Dillon, T. M. Healey, T. Harrington and a number of others were among those on the train.

The Nationalists accompanied the police and Mr. O'Brien to the court house. During the march three cheers were given for John Morley by the large crowd which exasperated the police, who charged on them to force the escort to move forward. John O'Connor carried off a blow from a policeman's club that was aimed at Mr. Morley. The court house was reached without further trouble, the streets in the vicinity being crowded with sympathizers.

Just before the hour for calling the cases the crowd outside the court house had grown to prodigious proportions and the police were called upon to prevent the entrance to the building of any except those more especially interested in the proceedings. In carrying out these instructions the police charged upon the crowd, using their batons freely.

For at least five minutes there was a regular stand-up fight between the crowd and police. Finally the crowd gave way and the police succeeded in maintaining a clear space in front of the court house.

Mr. William O'Brien first refused to enter the building, but the general public was admitted, but he finally went in, bitterly complaining of the brutality of the police. One officer in the rush struck Commissioner Harrington, severely wounding him. Another struck Mr. Hinfax, who caused a sensation by appearing in court bleeding freely from a scalp wound, the blood running down over his face and neck and completely obscuring the color of his coat. One man was struck in the face by a policeman's baton and had his teeth forced down his throat. Several persons were so badly injured in the melee that they were obliged to call surgical aid.

John Morley entered the court greatly agitated and appealed to the bench to prevent such brutal and wanton battery. Both Mr. Morley and Dillon appealed to Col. Madden to allow the public free ingress. This was peremptorily refused but ultimately the doors were thrown open and the general public allowed to enter.

Mr. Shannon declared that he would perform his duty in an unbiased manner. Mr. Roman, counsel for the crown, was permitted by the court to slightly alter the charges upon which the defendants were taken into custody, amid strenuous protests from the prisoners' counsel that such alteration at this stage of the case was illegal.

Mr. Roman proceeded to give a history of the trial of the league in 1881. He was subjected to a continuous series of comments and interruptions from the audience. Mr. Timothy Healy, counsel for the defense, denounced the whole proceeding as a palpable sham.

A motion to adjourn the case was objected to by Patrick O'Brien, who complained that his time was being wasted in consequence of his illegal arrest.

Mr. Roman's arrest was legal when you arrived in Dublin.

Mr. Patrick O'Brien attempted to leave the court room, but was prevented. He was subsequently admitted to bail.

The case was then adjourned for the day. The amending of the warrants against Messrs. Dillon and O'Brien will enable the government to include new charges in the complaints. This unexpected action, remarked by the magistrates at the opening of the court, are without precedent having been given to the defendants, is regarded as an evidence that the government proposes to conduct the case in an arbitrary and high handed manner, and that the court is ready to lend its aid in that direction.

other hand, shows a determination to prolong the fight and keep the case before the country as long as possible, with a view to making capital for the Nationalist cause. The charges made by the police on the crowds around the court house were wholly needless exhibitions of brute force. The Nationalists were trying to preserve order and allay excitement and to dissuade the crowd from forcing itself upon the doors. The trouble was country people's eagerness to witness the trial. There was no intent to create a disturbance, and had the doors been left open as customary there would have been no disorder.

It is rumored that the governor is hiding in the palace and is deaf to the petitions of the inhabitants. A number of dynamite bombs have been thrown at the palace by the citizen soldiery. It is estimated that 300 persons were killed and wounded during the two days fighting. Morocco Disturbed. LONDON, Sept. 26.—Serious disturbances are reported from Morocco. A provincial kaid, or governor, abducted a girl. The tribe to which the girl belonged attacked the kaid, killed him, all his women, and some of his male relatives. The sultan's troops marched against the tribe, killed some and captured others, and sent the ringleader's head to the sultan.

BRIDGE COMPANY EMBARRASSED.

Wild Rumors About a Noted Firm in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 26.—Financial circles here are uneasy over the embarrassment of the Iron City Bridge works. The affair has been kept very quiet, but Thursday's Commercial-Gazette, in speaking of the matter, said: "An attachment to the amount of $189,351 against C. J. Schultz, of the Iron City Bridge works, was served upon the Howard Plate Glass company by W. B. Rogers, representing the Oliver Iron and Steel company. The Iron City Bridge company had built some large iron structures for the glass company, and there is still a balance due on the contract, and upon this attachment was laid. Mr. H. W. Oliver declined to give any information in regard to the matter, so also did his attorney, Mr. Rodgers. It was said that Mr. Schultz's residence on Carson street, but he could not be seen. His son-in-law said there was nothing in the matter at all."

In court Thursday the judgment of $183,000 against the Iron City Bridge company was formally entered on public records. The story of the embarrassment is this: The Oliver Iron and Steel company were endorsers on notes from the bridge company which were to fail due at different times. The long given was that in case of failure to pay these notes as they came due, a judgment by Oliver of $180,000 was to be entered against the bridge company. This company defaulted on the first note for $26.77 due Sept. 19, hence the judgment for $183,000.

The Oliver company has issued attachments on everything possible due the bridge company, and say they are amply justified.

No statement has yet been made of the liabilities of the bridge company. The principal creditors of the firm are: Oliver Brothers, Carnegie & Company, Jones & Laughlin and Lloyd Sons.

ATTEMPTED ASSASSINATION.

Mexico's President Fired Upon While Standing on His Own Plaza.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 26.—A San Antonio dispatch to The Times-Democrat says a prominent railway official, just arrived from Mexico, relates a story of an attempt on the life of President Diaz. During the recent festivities the president stepped out on the plaza of his residence, with his personal staff, to witness the display of fireworks and listen to the music. It was at an early hour in the evening and the crowds around the palace were dense.

As Diaz appeared a volley of bullets was heard above the din of music, cheers and yells, and bits of brick and timber flew around his head. Diaz hastily retreated followed by his staff. Three bullets whizzed past his head. Forty men are known to have been concerned in the plot, and fifteen of them are in jail. The others have fled, but the militia are tracking them. The news of the deed has been suppressed by the government officials. The attempt is ascribed to the president's recent leaning toward the clerical party.

Mike Kelley's Mother-in-Law Suicides. PATERSON, N. J., Sept. 26.—Mrs. J. M. Headlin, mother-in-law of Mike Kelly, the famous ball player, captain and manager of the Boston Players' League team, committed suicide yesterday afternoon by jumping from the Market Street bridge into the river.

A man who saw her jump attempted to rescue her, but she sank before he could reach her. Mrs. Headlin had been in bad health for some time from malaria, and it is believed she was mentally affected by the large quantities of quinine she had taken.

The New Anti-Lottery Law.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—Judge Tamm, the assistant attorney general for the post-office, is engaged in preparing instructions to postmasters in regard to the enforcement of the anti-lottery law. A number of questions have arisen in regard to the construction of this law, especially as to the right to mail back numbers of newspapers containing lottery advertisements, printed prior to the passage of the law; also whether a Canadian newspaper containing lottery advertisements can be delivered in this country through the mails. Judge Tamm will answer both of these questions in the negative and will solve a number of other questions relating to the new law which have been brought to his attention.

The conference report may be presented to the house tomorrow.

These officers are thoroughly familiar with this type of vessels, and after a thorough examination of the plans pronounce them to be equal or superior in power to any of that type now under construction in any navy, and say "that the development of the process of our design reflects the highest credit upon the department."

Bond Purchases.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—The total amount of four-and-a-half per cent bonds purchased by the treasury department under the circular of Aug. 20, up to date, aggregates $2,432,850. IN THE LABOR WORLD.

Master Workman Lee Interviewed on the Central Strike—Other Labor News.

ALBANY, Sept. 26.—Master Workman Lee, of the Knights of Labor, who ordered the strike on the Central and was accused of aiding the wreckers, said yesterday in relation to Buett's plea guilty and not guilty: "Our way of looking at the matter is this: The fight has been carried on between the Knights of Labor on the one side, and a big corporation on the other. We have got the best of it up to the present and now on to and in sparing no means of doing so. This present case is a villainous concoction on the part of the company."

"These men who are in the toils of the company seem to act as if they were insane, and I believe that an extraordinary pressure of money in the shape of bribes, or mental torture has been brought to bear on these unfortunate men to place them in the position they are in. The action of Buett's plea guilty, his plea of guilty would put legs under the company's case, but it seems that Buett's conscience or a belief on his part that his bribe would not be commensurate with his imprisonment, induced him to turn his back on the company and Bob Pinkerton and alter his plea."

"I would not be surprised if Buett would spit upon the company and state publicly the atrocious devices adopted by Pinkerton to make him perjure himself in the company's behalf. I can state for Cain that he does not belong to our organization, his application for membership being rejected for good reasons before this trouble began."

Prospect of a Strike.

CHICAGO, Sept. 26.—There is every prospect of a strike of the conductors and drivers employed by the West Side street car companies. For some time the trouble has been brewing, but not until yesterday was the alternative of a strike as a remedy for their grievances seriously discussed by the men. A committee from the West Side Street Car Conductors and Drivers' Association waited on General Manager Parsons yesterday morning. The grievances of the men were presented to the manager, and a long discussion followed.

The conference soon became stormy, and when it was ended both parties to it were sullen and angry. So far as it could be learned, the general manager absolutely refused to concede a point in favor of the men. A meeting of the men has been called for Saturday night, and unless concessions are made during the week, the prospect is good for a general tie-up of all the West Side lines.

State of Affairs in Denver.

DENVER, Col., Sept. 26.—In the Union Pacific yards the company has thirty-five new cars and seven engines at work. The officials assert that under the management of Assistant Superintendent Burns, against whose retention the striking switchmen protest, they have moved more freight than they formerly did with a force of 125 men and thirty engines in the same length of time. The strikers are steadfast in their determination to remain out, although it seems likely that the switchmen's Brotherhood will refuse to take up the fight.

No Strike on the Illinois Central.

CHICAGO, Sept. 26.—At the final meeting between the Illinois Central employees and Superintendent Sullivan yesterday, concessions were made by both sides so that a strike will be averted. The brakemen, switchmen, firemen, engineers and conductors asked for an increase in their pay. This was granted, although they will not get 25 per cent increase as asked for. The exact figures have not been made public.

Nail Spinners' Troubles Over.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Sept. 26.—The striking nail spinners had a conference with the superintendent yesterday and matters will probably be satisfactorily settled soon. He was accompanied by Chairman William O. McDowell and Secretary B. S. Osborne, of the committee.

The flag is to be erected by the pennies, nickels, dimes and dollars of the people, under the care of a committee from the Sons of the American Revolution, the Grand Army of the Republic, the Sons of Veterans and the school children of New York and New Jersey. It is the forerunner of a flag to be erected at the entrance of every harbor in the United States, that the passengers and the approaching ships may have their first sight of land greeted by the sight of the flag of liberty.

COUNTY SEAT WAR.

Serious Trouble Between the Towns of West and Springfield, Colorado.

DENVER, Col., Sept. 26.—A dispatch from Lamar, Col., says: Word has been received of serious trouble between the towns of West and Springfield, in Baca county. Since Baca county was created from Las Animas county by the last general assembly there has been a strife between these towns as to which should have the county seat. The act organizing the county provided that Springfield should be the seat. At the election last fall it is alleged that by the manipulation of ballots it was made the permanent seat. The people of West claim that Springfield has not the $5,000 worth of county property necessary to prevent the county seat from being moved by vote this fall. The only available building for a county court house was a hotel building in West.

A few weeks ago this was sold at sheriff's sale and bought by Springfield parties. Saturday night a party left Springfield for West with machinery to move the building to the former town for use as a court house, thus preventing the county seat issue from being raised this fall on the ground of insufficient property. Rollers were put under the building, which is three stories high and the finest in the county, and twenty teams were hitched to it. Inside the house were stationed twelve men armed with Winchester rifles. The building was moved about five miles toward Springfield, which is about twenty-five miles from West, when the people of the latter place discovered the trick and immediately organized.

All available horses and rifles were brought into requisition, and a strong party started in pursuit. Upon overtaking the building movers the pursuers commanded a halt, which was answered by a volley of shots from the men in the building. The shooting then ended, and a fierce battle raged, which ended in the Springfield party being driven from the building. Coal oil was then procured and the floors of the building saturated. The building was then set on fire and consumed. Great excitement prevails, but owing to the remoteness of the scene, news is slow to obtain. Parties arrived here last night from Springfield and hurriedly after buying all the cartridges they could secure. Several persons are reported as having been killed during the fight. This, however, is doubtful.

TO CONVERT CATHOLICS.

The Purpose of a Society Recently Formed at Boston.

Boston, Sept. 26.—Within a month steps will be taken in the direction of extending to a dozen or more of the principal cities of the country the new organization recently brought into existence, and which has adopted the title of "The Loyal Men of American Liberty." The object of this society, as stated in its charter, is the elevation, enlightenment and conversion of Roman Catholics by supplying them with copies of the Bible and other literature as shall be helpful in imparting to them a true knowledge of the Creator.

It also proposes to take a hand in politics by opposing the election of men who hold allegiance to any foreign potentate or power, and are sworn to obey that power. Another object of the organization is to advocate an open Bible in the public schools, and to assist financially and otherwise all such uneducated Catholics. Although of recent birth, the "Loyal Men" have a large following in this city, the names of many prominent citizens being upon the roll of membership.

The Love of Their Youth Renewed by a Couple in Chattanooga.

CHATTANOOGA, Sept. 26.—A romance dating back thirty-five years culminated in a happy marriage here last evening, the parties being George W. Clutz, of Buffalo, N. Y., and Mrs. Crook, of Chattanooga, Ill. In 1855 they became engaged and the young man went west to seek his fortune.

Failing at first he ceased to write, but succeeding at last he went east to redeem his promise, and found on his return that the lady had married. Since then the matrimonial partner of each died, and the survivors had not seen each other until Tuesday, when the gentleman, en route to Florida and the lady to Atlanta, met in Chattanooga. Mutual explanations followed, the love of their youth renewed and in Chattanooga they were made husband and wife and went on their way rejoicing.

DEATH OF A VALUABLE CITIZEN.

Henry M. Barnhart Dies at His Home on East Center Street.

Henry M. Barnhart is dead. This brief announcement is sufficient to recall sincere regret that Marion should lose so valuable a citizen right in the prime of his usefulness. The death of the active and ambitious spirit of so apparently strong and robust a nature as that of Mr. Barnhart is a matter of surprise, but the sad fact remains—the once strong man passed quietly away in death, at his beautiful home on East Center street, at 9:30 o'clock Friday night. Mr. Barnhart's sickness dated from the first of the month, since which time he had but once left the house. Typhoid fever was what brought him to his sickbed, but a complication in the nature of heart trouble was the direct cause of his death. He had been generally strong and healthy until two years and a half ago, at which time he made a trip to California. At that time he apparently overdid his strength in his work and subsequently suffered from nervous prostration. Again, he was the victim of the grip during its rage, and these things combined caused the first weakening point in his strong constitution. Deceased was a native of Marion county, having been born in Richland township, near what is known as King's Mills, 44 years ago the 28th of last August. He leaves a wife and five children—four girls and one boy; also a mother and four sisters. A sketch of the life and value of Henry Barnhart as a citizen of this city could not be related without reference to the date when his mechanical genius was turned to the invention of the Barnhart Steam Shovel. This invention was completed in 1883, when the inventor was comparatively a poor man, financially. A patent on the machine was obtained in September of that year, the first machine was built, and in partnership with Edward Huber, was operated until 1884. In August of that year the Steam Shovel Co. was organized, with Mr. Barnhart as secretary and general manager. Messrs. Barnhart, Huber, Keiler and King formed the nucleus of the company, whose business has grown to such immense proportions. The steam shovel was not alone of his inventions, as he had been interested as a patentee in no less than twelve valuable ones. The ballast unloaders, wrecking cars, excavators and county ditchers comprise the machines as results of his inventive skill, the former of these, the ballast unloader, completely revolutionizing the manufacture of that class of machinery. Mr. Barnhart continued as secretary and general manager of the company until Jan. 8th, 1889, when he was made vice president and general manager, which offices have been made vacant by his death. The history of the Steam Shovel Co. is familiar almost to every Marion citizen. Its success and growth, since its inception by the man whose genius inspired and made its existence possible, has been phenomenal, until it can be numbered as one of the direct causes of Marion's present prosperity. Over one hundred and fifty men are employed at these shops, doubtless everyone of whom sadly regret the death that has removed the manager of the works. The shops were closed this morning, and the wheels that are wont to be so active in this growing industry are temporarily quiet—as quiet as the body which has been so familiar among their scenes of activity. Mr. Barnhart was an excellent citizen, well liked and companionable. He was a much respected member of the Marion Commandery, No. 38, Knights Templar, and also of Marion Lodge, No. 70 F. and A. M. He will be buried under the ritual ceremonies of the former body while the latter will act as escort. The funeral will occur at the late home of deceased Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. R. Wallace will officiate.

A LOST BRAKEMAN.

Brakeman Ed Foster's Mysterious Disappearance from C. and E. Train 12.

Ed Foster, the well-known Chicago and Erie employe who brakes for Conductor McCollough, and was with him on train 12 out of Chicago Thursday night, was missed at Decatur. Mr. McCollough did not see Foster after leaving Huntington, but first missed him at Decatur. The engineer running 12 states, however, that he got a signal to pull ahead at Kingsland, where the train had slackened up, and it was supposed it was from Foster's lantern, as the conductor was not out of the coach at that place. The disappearance of the brakeman is a mystery, but it was thought this morning that he had fallen off the train and been killed, as it is natural to suppose that had he been left at a station he would have telegraphed such information, but nothing was heard from him, although a telegram of inquiry was sent along the line. Conductor McCollough left this morning on train 1 to search for the missing man, but with what success has not been learned. People coming to our Fair should not fail to call at No. 126 north Main street, where can be found a selection of choice liquors, cigars and tobacco, also the best malt liquors produced in the United States. Carling's amber ale imported direct from London, Canada. You can make no mistake as to the place, it is the only Board of Trade in Marion, Ohio. Everything is conducted on strictly business principles. 20354aw. HARRY WEAVER, Prop'r.

BUTCHER SEARCH WEDDING.

At the Presbyterian Church Thursday Evening. Followed by a Reception at Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Search's.

A large and handsome audience responded to the invitations issued by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Search, to witness the marriage of their daughter, Marietta, to Charles Butcher, of Piqua, Ohio. It seemed very fitting that this important event in the life of the bride should take place in the Presbyterian church, as she has been a devoted member and earnest worker in this church since early childhood. The wedding was an unusually pretty one. About 7 o'clock the church was comfortably filled and the audience was well entertained by the organ music, rendered by E. Eugene Davis, until the hour announced for the wedding. ney, Edward K. Usher and James Phillips, Sidney Young, Merrill A. Turpins, as ushers, came first, followed by the maid of honor, Miss Griselinda Davis, eldest daughter of Hon. W. Z. Davis, who untied the ribbons in the aisle, admitting the bride and her two little attendants, Mary Dennison Gailey and Mary Ellen Sharpless to the altar, beautifully decorated with house plants, under the artistic management of Mrs. Wilder. Here they met the groom accompanied by the Rev. Mr. McCaslin, of Sidney, who with the assistance of the pastor of the church performed the ceremony. The bride is too well known in Marion to need description, and it is needless to say that she looked her best in her costume of white crepe de chine and brocade silk, made en train and with ornaments of pearls. Miss Davis was most lovely in her unique but simple director gown of French cashmere and real lace. The little attendants added much to the beauty of the scene; the one with her bright golden tresses and the other with her dark curling hair, each carrying a dainty basket of flowers. Although Mr. Butcher is a comparative stranger in Marion, he comes with a high reputation and will receive a thorough welcome. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Butcher received about fifty of their relatives and immediate friends at the home of the bride's parents on West Center street. About 11 o'clock delicious refreshments were served, after which the guests departed, most heartily congratulating the happy couple and wishing them a long life and continued happiness. Mr. and Mrs. Butcher will make Marion their home during the coming winter.

NOTES.

Some one asks when will Ed Usher and Sidney Young cease to act as ushers and take a more prominent part at a wedding? The flowers carried by the bride and her maid of honor were beautiful. There never were more choice or elegant presents received by any Marion bride. Miss Search's letters in the STAR increased her circle of friends and admirers. Some of the dresses worn by the ladies on this occasion were charming. Mr. and Mrs. Butcher did not take a wedding trip. He Must Get Married. Attorney Arthur S. Fisher, of Rockford, is a candidate for matrimonial honors. He is a member of the Owl club, a society of Ogle county bachelors, and his doom was sealed at his picnic on Aug. 15. During the day came the election of officers. Among the officers is one called "the $10,000 beauty of the club," and he who is elected to this office must marry within a year and withdraw from the society. The charm has never failed to work yet, and every man who has been elected to the office has been married within the year. Every other officer is elected by acclamation, but this one is elected by solemn and sacred ballot. When the ballots were counted it was found that Mr. Fisher was the doomed man. The good natured attorney made a pleasant speech, and tried in his clever way to turn it off as a joke. The sequel has never failed to occur.—Chicago Herald.

STRAY BITS.

Glass may be cut with a strong pair of scissors if it is held under water. Disproportionableness, with twenty one letters, is said to be the longest English word. The supreme court has decided that only the children of first wives of Mormons are legal heirs. The centennial of the discovery of coal in Pennsylvania is to be celebrated in September, 1901. A Californian is extracting by distillation the oil and water of orange blossoms. The oil is worth $4 an ounce and the water is a valuable product. A bell cast recently for the Klarkov cathedral contains 68 per cent. of pure silver. It weighs 646 English pounds, and its vibrations last several minutes. It is claimed that Tulare county, Cal., will lose a round half million of dollars this year for the want of ships to carry its grain to Liverpool. It may interest some readers to know that more than one supposed authority declares that the leaves of the tomato plant are more medicinal than the fruit. The use of india rubber for erasing pencil marks was first suggested in or just prior to 1752 by an academician named Magellan, a descendant of the great navigator. The latest scheme for marking the points made in playing cards on the cards is to stick a pencil between the slats of the window blind, and the pencil travels up and down according to the luck. When a shoot is plucked from a tea plant it bears three or four leaves and a bud. The smallest bud and leaf on the stalk make the finest tea, and the lower leaves on the stalk, when sifted, make the coarser kinds of tea. Chinese pheasants were introduced into the east forests of Oregon less than ten years ago, and they have increased to such an extent that it is estimated that there are now at least a million of them in the United States.

PERSONAL GOSSIP.

Justice Bradley, of the United States supreme court, amuses himself making up names.

The Marquis of Drogheda is 6 feet 5 inches in his stockings. He is the biggest English peer. Commadore Francis M. Ramsay, United States navy, is a very fine looking man. He is noted for his austerity, coldness and naughtiness. Marshal Canrobert is one of the oldest, as he is probably the most popular, of the soldiers of France. He is now 80, and is still in vigorous health. Charles D. Young, a Denver boy of 15, has recently built the smallest and burning locomotive in existence. It is about five feet long and weighs 250 pounds. F. A. Dewey, of Cambridge, Mich., is undoubtedly the oldest stage driver and mail contractor in the state. He is 80, and drove a stage out of Detroit sixty years ago. Capt. James Bend, who saved the lives of 28 persons wrecked off Long Beach on the ship State of Georgia, in December, 1892, still lives at the age of 90 near Beach Haven, N. J. Dr. Norvin Green, the head of the Western Union Telegraph company, is a Kentuckian of grand frame, nearly 70 years of age. He was a promising physician in the early days of his career. Frank A. H. Smer, of Great Barrington, Mass., has been elected president of Oahu college, Honolulu. He is an Amateur graduate, and lately has done editorial work for the Berkshire Courier. Dr. Allan McLane Hamilton openly avows his belief that carbonic acid gas is produced by the decayed pipes into a lethal chamber would furnish the ideal of civilized extermination for murderers.

PROFESSOR ALBERT B. PRESCOTT.

Professor Albert B. Prescott, of Ann Arbor, president elect of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, is the most representative of chemists honored by such an appointment since 1892.

Mr. Sims Reeves, the famous English tenor, is 65 years of age and still a charming singer. He lives with his wife and a daughter in a quiet country home in the suburbs of London, not far from the Crystal Palace.

Senator Jones, of Nevada, is one of the best story tellers in congress. His fund of stories seems to be inexhaustible, and it has become one of the traditions of the senate that he has a new story every morning.

J. W. Patterson, of Oklahoma City, is undoubtedly the tallest man in the United States. He stands 7 feet 7 inches in his stockings, and is 27 years old. His wife is nearly six feet high and weighs 200 pounds.

The late Capt. McMickan was the author of the remark concerning ocean greyhounds, "that a steamship should be run for all she was worth, because in a collision the boat going the fastest would come out on top."

Mr. John Morley attends high mass at the Brompton oratory in London with great regularity on Sunday when parliament is in session. He has a great liking for sacred music, and also enjoys hearing the preaching of the Catholic priests.

Professor John R. Hunlon, vice president of Pennington seminary, has invented a new telescope and transit instrument, in which the telescope can be accurately raised or lowered to the proper height after it has been leveled.

Senator Plumb is described as the very picture of a rough and ready farmer from the wild and woolly west. He is a tall, broad, stout man, with a big head and a big chest. He is a lawyer by profession, despite his granger like appearance.

Sam Small, the noted southern evangelist, is a tall, slender man, with a quick and nervous walk. His face is pale, his voice low and pleasant and he wears glasses. His dress is that of the typical clergyman, except for the long hair on his head.

The Rev. Dr. Wayland, who has been called the Channing of Delaware of Philadelphia in the matter of after dinner speaking, is 6 feet 1 1/2 inches in height, has a dark complexion and heavy eyebrows. His physical appearance is much like that of Abraham Lincoln.

Cyrus W. Field has a hennery with 2,000 chickens in it at his country estate at Andover on the Hudson, and cultivates an interest in the welfare of the birds which are to be fed to them. His flock yields over three thousand dozen eggs yearly. Besides the chickens he has about six hundred ducks.
